Re: Support for the 22nd International Symposium on Adult Congenital Heart Disease; Toronto, May 30 – June 2, 2012; Toronto Marriott Downtown Hotel

We would appreciate the chance to meet with you to discuss opportunities including your interest in supporting our upcoming International Symposium on Adult Congenital Heart Disease in early summer 2012.

The 22nd International Symposium on Adult Congenital Heart Disease offers a unique academic opportunity to bring high profile health professionals and their expertise together. This will encompass a true bench to bedside Adult Congenital Heart Disease continuum. The aim of this conference is to hold a forum involving major international professionals to exchange the latest research findings and clinical treatments for Adult Congenital Heart Disease including interested investigators and clinicians from across Canada, the USA and Internationally.

The following hot topics amongst others will be discussed: pulmonary hypertension in congenital heart disease, arrhythmias, catheter-based interventions, new techniques in imaging, the Fontan disease - diagnostic and therapeutic challenges of a systemic disease, end of life and supportive care (advanced care), pregnancy and congenital heart disease amongst others.

As a major company that has significant interest in Adult Congenital Heart Disease this would represent an excellent opportunity for exposure to key health professionals and would elevate your company profile in Adult Congenital Cardiology health, education and research. We expect excellent attendance with registrants across North America, Europe and Asia.
