

Taking care of someone?

Are you regularly providing someone with physical, psychological, emotional, and decision-making support? Do you play a key role in their ongoing care?

Then you could be a caregiver.

