

Transcript – A Message to Princess Margaret Patients from Staff

TEXT - To our patients at the Princess Margaret Cancer Centre.

Mary Gospodarowicz, Medical Director, Princess Margaret Cancer Centre - Our doctors, nurses, and allied professionals who care for you and your loved ones with cancer are thinking about you at this challenging time.

Anet Julius, Director Professional Practice, Princess Margaret Cancer Centre - We know that this is an unsettling and uncertain time for you and your loved ones.

Wilson Lam, Hematologist, Princess Margaret Cancer Centre - You may worry about how your cancer treatment has been or may be impacted by COVID-19.

Mary Elliot, Psychiatrist, Princess Margaret Cancer Centre - We wanted to reach out to you to tell you that your safety is our first priority and we are working hard to keep you safe and provide the best possible care during these challenging days.

John Waldron Radiation Oncologist, Princess Margaret Cancer Centre - As a result of the novel coronavirus, you may see changes in how we work.

- Amit Oza, Medical Oncologist, Princess Margaret Cancer Centre - We may connect with you by telephone or online instead of in-person.
- Meredith Giuliani, Director, Cancer Education, Princess Margaret Cancer Centre - When you come for an appointment at the cancer centre, we will ask you to come alone and take actions to protect you from COVID-19...
- Andrea Gomes, Speech Language Pathologist, Princess Margaret Cancer Centre - And we may have to postpone or adjust your treatment.

Madeline Li, Psychiatrist, Princess Margaret Cancer Centre - We understand that you may feel anxious, scared or frustrated.

Simonne Simon Nurse Educator, Princess Margaret Cancer Centre - We are checking the COVID-19 situation daily...

Kazuhiro Yasufuku Thoracic Surgeon, Princess Margaret Cancer Centre - ...always keeping you in mind to minimize the impact that this will have on your care.

Monika Krzyzanowska Medical Oncologist, Princess Margaret Cancer Centre - We want to thank you for your patience and understanding as we navigate these unprecedented times.

All - Together, we will get through this.
