

Ben Golding

President and Chief Operating Officer

Ben Golding is President and Chief Operating Officer of Advancement Resources, a widely recognized international nonprofit training firm that focuses on best practices in philanthropic engagement. Currently the company operates in Australia, Canada, New Zealand, Singapore, the United Kingdom, and the United States.

Through Advancement Resources, Ben has consulted with several national and international medical institutions on donor-centric development practices. A few of his recent partners include the University of Washington, Sutter Health, United Way Worldwide, Oregon State University, MedStar Health, California State University System, Northwestern University, and University of British Columbia.

Ben has been honored to present donor-centric philanthropic best practices at several local and national associations and conventions, including Association of Healthcare Philanthropy, American Association of Medical Colleges – Group on Institutional Advancement, Blackbaud Executive Forum, Minnesota Planned Giving Association, and Advancement Northwest. He has served on the planning committee for the Association for Healthcare Philanthropy Leading Forward 2016 conference and leads the Association for Healthcare Philanthropy Affiliate Task Force.